Council petitions to redirect funding

New county building nixed

by Jerry Grozelle

Council for the County of Haliburton decided to amend its application for Infrastructure funds regarding the proposed construction of a new County Administration Building.

Council decided, in closed session, to ask for $1.9-million to be used for renovations and an addition to the present structure on Newcastle Street and a new roof for the Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home. An infrastructure grant of $2.4-million for a new facility was approved late last year.

The estimated cost of upgrades and additions to the old County Building have been estimated at almost $750,000. The new roof for Hyland Crest would cost $300,000 and the remainder, council hopes, could be reallocated to a county fund, from which the townships could draw.

The county's share of the cost would be reduced from $800,000 for a new building to $350,000 for the current proposal. County clerk Terry Noble explained that half of the county's share of the Hyland Crest portion has already been budgeted.

Stanhope Township reeve Jock Mavor said that the proposed addition and renovations would increase the usable space at the current facility from 5,864 square feet to 11,864 square feet.

Anson, Hindon and Minden reeve Jeanne Anthon questioned whether or not a buffer had been considered in case the actual cost of renovations exceeded the estimate. She was assured by county warden Ross Rabjohn that the estimate addressed that possible eventuality.

Rabjohn said that with the upgrades, the old county building could serve the intended purpose for another 25 years. He said that the steering committee, took a close look at the pros and cons of a new building as opposed to repairing and expanding the old one before making its recommendations.

The Steering Committee consists of past wardens Jim McMahon, Murray Fearrey, Bill Howe, Keith Tallman and George Simmons, with Rabjohn as chairman.

POPULAR EVENT: The annual Minden District Fur Harvesters Workshop and Fun Day was the most popular yet as an estimated 350 to 400 people turned out for the event. Browsers are seen here checking out the items at one of the booths. For the complete story and more photos, see page 5.

Look who's back!

Winnie is back!

The popular Minden Winter Carnival mascot is making a seasonal appearance again this year, undaunted by the weather that appears to have little to do with a traditional Canadian winter.

The re-appearance of the mascot has been orchestrated by winter carnival chairman Brian Moore. Working with a small but dedicated staff, he has put together an interesting array of events designed to appeal to people of all ages.

The carnival kicks off Friday evening with a torch-light parade from the firehall to the arena. The parade will be supervised by the community policing association.

This will be followed by the finals in the Carnival King and Queen competition. Organizers are still looking for entrants. They emphasize that this is not a "beauty" pageant, as contestants will be judged on their oral communication skills and their knowledge of the community.

During the evening the winners of the ice sculpting contest will be announced (provided there is enough raw material for artists to sculpt). A figure skating exhibition and tyke hockey game will follow.

Saturday there is a full day of activities, starting with skating challenges at the arena at 9 o'clock.

One of the interesting new additions to the line-up of Saturday contests is a spaghetti eating contest.

"Last year we challenged the participants in a number of contests," Moore commented.

"This year we've added a spaghetti tasting contest." Contestants will race against the clock as they consume a plate of spaghetti. The challenge for the participants and the fun for the spectators will be that the task must be completed without using utensils and with their hands held behind their backs. The results should be as hilarious as they are messy. The competition will take place along with the donut eating contest between 11:30 and 1 p.m.

A number of children's games of skill have been scheduled for 1-3 p.m. Saturday afternoon outside the arena, while in the community centre, adults can get involved in a Euchre tournament. Bowling will be available at County Bowling Centre for $1 per game with a carnival pin.

Saturday evening, kick off your galoshes and dance the night away at a Carnival Snowball, while downstairs, an all-star team from the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League will take on their counterparts from Haliburton.

Once again this year your Winnie pin with a 1995 ribbon is your key to admission. In some cases the pin and ribbon ensures a reduced admission price. In others, with the pin, entrance is free.

Winnie pins are available at various locations throughout the community. For more information on this year's Minden Winter Carnival, see the ad on page 7 of today's newspaper.

County building decision

Advisor says closed session probably legal

by Andrew Milne

A Ministry of Municipal Affairs (MMA) source says that the decision of the county government to discuss matters relating to the proposed new county building in a session closed to the public is probably valid under new provincial legislation controlling when local government meetings can be closed to the public. But most of seven reeves contacted by the Times said they could see how one could be concerned by the decision to hold the closed meeting, and some said they were uncomfortable with it.

Council voted January 18 to petition the provincial and federal governments to allow infrastructure funding allocated for the construction of a new county building to be redirected.

The motion, which was unopposed, read, "Moved by Bill Davis, seconded by Bill Howe, be it resolved that we petition the provincial and federal governments to amend our infrastructure application as follows: renovation and addition to county building: $749,250, Hyland Crest capital improvements, $300,000, revert to lower-tier municipalities, $922,869."

County level politicians have been discussing the construction of a new county building for some time now. The discussion has been long, and, as is often true of politics in Haliburton county, has involved long-standing regional tensions between the villages of Minden (where the current facility is represented) and Haliburton. In 1993, prior to the last municipal elections, the previous council applied for and got funding under the federal infrastructure program to construct a new building on the highway 35 bypass at Minden.

A property matter

The official reason given for closing the meeting to the public was that there was a matter related to the procurement of land involved, but many of the council members contacted said that there was more to the discussion than mere property matters. However, most of them said that it would have been impossible to separate the property matters from the rest of the issue, and it was for this reason that the discussion was closed.

The procurement of property is named under the provincial bill as an acceptable reason for closing meetings.

The property matter given as the reason for closing the session was that, should the council have chosen to go with the original proposal to build a new county building, they would have had to purchase the land one which to build it.

The agenda item pertaining to the discussion reads, "Retire to committee-of-the-whole to deal with security of property issues surrounding the proposal to build a new administrative building."

Committee-of-the-whole describes a meeting in which the entire council is present, but which is closed to the public. The term in camera also describes any meeting closed to the public.

Ross Rabjohn is reeve of Sherborne et al and county warden. Says Rabjohn, "The question was, how much of the question do you debate in committee of the whole, and how much of it shouldn't be? But it's so intertwined, we said how can you possibly separate the thing?"

Hard to contest

Tracey Ruthman, a senior municipal advisor with the MMA, says that, since a reason was given for going to the committee of the whole, it would probably be difficult for anyone to successfully contest the decision under the new law.

And since the actual motion, though related to the discussion in closed session, was moved in open session, Ruthman did not feel the legislation would be likely to have much bearing on the matter.

"I'd say not," said Ruthman, "because the ultimate decision was made in an open meeting... I think that the procedure they followed was okay."

Ruthman also said that, since the legislation is so new, it is not yet clear to him what action could be taken should anyone wish to contest a decision to meet in camera, though he believes it would have to be pursued in the courts. Ruthman also believes that, should a successful challenge be made under the act, the actions taken in a closed meeting could be rendered null and void.

the last few weeks, and the county was expected to have to sell debentures to make up its $800,000 share of the $2.4 million

Committee members differ

Most of the reeves interviewed on the decision seemed to feel that, given the economic climate, petitioning to redirect the funds would probably be the wisest decision. Interest rates have been rising alarmingly in Canada in

County Council asked to support performing arts centre

Following is a summary of some of the items that were dealt with at the January 18 meeting of Haliburton County Council.

Performing arts centre

Curtis Eastmuir, representing the Haliburton Little Theatre Group, approached council asking for moral support in a bid to seek government funding for the addition of a theatre facility addition to the Haliburton High School. Eastmuir explained that a small window of opportunity exists whereby government funds are available to help pay for construction that benefits education and the community together.

Eastmuir said that the community is in need of larger theatre facilities and with the availability of funds, now is the time to act. The Ministry of Culture, Tourism and Recreation will fund 50 per cent of approved projects, with the other 50 per cent the responsibility of the community.

Eastmuir explained that a small window of opportunity exists to complete applications for this grant money "to tap into funds available for 1994-95".

The theatre group plans to put together a questionnaire to ask the community what type of facility it prefers. Eastmuir cited a pool, senior citizens' centre or performing arts centre as examples of what might be preferred. The questionnaire will also ask respondents if they would be willing to help finance the construction of preferred facilities.

The expected cost of construction is in the $1-million to $1.5-million range. The community would have to raise half.

Eastmuir was optimistic that the community would support such a venture and suggested that it could be debentured for a period of years while the funds were raised. He said that the county may be asked to co-sign a debenture.

"We will have to find out if the county even wants such a joint-use facility," Eastmuir said. "If a building has to be constructed anyway, why not add something for the community?"

Eastmuir pointed out that performing arts facilities in the county are inadequate and that a new facility could draw summer theatre patrons into the area.

"The community certainly needs a facility, there's no question about that," Eastmuir said.

Councillor Bill Howe asked Eastmuir if the subject of cost would be clearly dealt with in the questionnaire, to which he replied yes.

Insurance hike

The county will be paying one third more for its insurance in 1995 over what was paid in 1994. The county applied to one company that provides insurance for municipalities but was turned down flat.

Monmouth reeve Keith Tallman commented: "We couldn't get another bid... isn't this an open market?"

A large claim by a municipality in south-western

Ontario is blamed, in part, for the rate hike. That claim involved a $5-million award to a hockey player who suffered a serious injury at a municipal arena. The insurance company in question is said to have nearly gone bankrupt because of the award.

"Who gets a 33 per cent increase in anything these days?" Rabjohn questioned.

Council voted to accept the terms of the only company to offer insurance to the county (OME). The premium is a hefty $61,314.84.

Committee appointments

Council passed a resolution appointing nine people to the Land Division Committee, which deals with severances. Those appointees were: Doug Shaw, Doug Adamson, Earle Sisson, Royce Miller, Murray Agnew, Craig Pettit, John Clayton, Bill Valentine and Tom Elliott.

Three people were also appointed to the Library Board. They are: Barbara Fawcett, Patricia Black and Lisa Kowaltschuk.

MSA

Council passed a resolution requesting the District Health Council to advocate and support a one county, one Multiple Services Agency option.

Leaky roof

The Hyland Crest report informed council that the roof of the senior citizens' home has developed a serious leak that requires immediate attention.

"The roof is in need of extensive repair," said Hyland Crest Committee chair Jock Mavor.

Mavor also reported that morale at Hyland Crest "is at an all time high".

Endorsements

Haliburton County endorsed a few resolutions circulated by other counties. They included opposition to the passage of Bill 173; asking for the removal of sales tax on insurance premiums; and opposing federal and provincial cutbacks in transfer payments.

County building decision

Closed meetings change debate

by Andrew Milne

Haliburton County warden Ross Rabjohn says one of the reasons governing bodies like to meet in camera — or away from public scrutiny — is the difficulty involved in describing complex decision making processes via the media.

Rabjohn also says the tendency of the public itself to take remarks made in a meeting out of context makes public meetings intimidating for some elected representatives.

Said Rabjohn, "From my own point of view, I think that the public and the press have got to change their attitudes drastically. I think there has to be a huge change in the way people think, if everything is going to be done right out in the open. Because to begin with in any discussion, you throw all the ideas on the table, whether they're sensible or not doesn't matter... But then someone takes what you've said out of context and prints the thing, or goes out on the street and says, well he

LDL Council's stipend will add $19,800 to budget

by Jerry Grozelle

One of the first orders of business of the new council of Laxton, Digby and Longford was to give itself a monthly salary (stipend), plus an increase in its per diem (payment for attending council meetings). It will cost the municipality's taxpayers an additional $19,800 per year for the services of its council members, plus an added $116.67 per meeting. Council has 18 scheduled meetings per year. The rate for attendance at committee meetings has been increased from $40 to $50 as well and two committees have been added to the list.

The new pay scale for councillors shouldn't come as a shock to those who attended the all-candidates meeting before the election. Current reeve John Macklem made clear at that meeting, his intentions to initiate (if elected) a stipend for councillors. He served as a councillor of LDL during the previous term.

Macklem said that he hasn't had any feedback from the municipality's ratepayers about the salary, but he added: "The staff at the office didn't seem too keen about it. As far as the electorate is concerned, I had mentioned it in my all-candidates speech that if I got elected, I believed it was fair -- regardless of who got in to council -- to put a stipend in."

Macklem said that the previous council was prepared to pass such a resolution, but the clerk informed the council of the day that it couldn't make such a resolution at the end of a term.

Macklem said that he reviewed a consultant's report on remuneration for municipal councils and came up with the salary figures for his council based on what was being paid to other councils of similar sized municipalities. The stipend will be: $400 per month for the reeve, $350 per month for the deputy-reeve and $300 per month for each of the three councillors.

Macklem said he compared the remuneration of the southern Haliburton County townships as well as those from the northern part of Victoria County and came up with figures he felt were "approximately commensurate with other townships our size".

The rationale behind the salary for LDL councillors was based on a study by the accounting firm of Ernst and Young, which was done in the early 1990s.

"That study suggested that a township our size would have stipends in that range," Macklem said.

He added that he would expect his T4, including the per diem for council meetings and the $50 per committee meeting, in his case, might total $7,000 for a year.

"We started at zero so I don't call it a raise," Macklem said. "I've got a list of the hours I've put in so far. My conscience is clear."

Macklem said that, as of six weeks after the decision to give council a stipend, "I have yet to have a taxpayer come up to me and say 'why did you do that?'"

Macklem added that he has brought the subject up while talking to a number of people and he said the general reaction was "Weren't you getting that all the time?"

"I recognize that there is a cost that we've added to the township budget," Macklem admits. "I haven't seen the final figures for 1994, but... we have those discretionary funds available. It will be allocated from the general working funds raised out of the mill rate."

Macklem said he expects the township will have a surplus of $50,000 to $60,000 carried over from 1994.

"I think investing in the management and the councillors is a good investment," he added. "Some people are very touchy about salaries, but I've never been that way personally. And I've never been afraid to say I'm worth that. I have never felt that we did the stipend idea because of some kind of a need or grab on the part of councillors."

Deputy-reeve Mike Riordon said he is prepared to leave the finance end of township business to someone who has more expertise than himself.

"I concentrate on the outside work -- roads and recreation and by-law stuff," he said. "I'll leave the money end of it to the experts."

Riordon pointed out that Macklem is an accountant (Certified General Accountant).

"I certainly supported it (the motion to institute a stipend and increase the per diem), Riordon said. "I feel that we're entitled to it and we earn it."

Former councillor disagrees

Lynn Peel, who sat on LDL council along with Macklem and Riordon during the past term, said she was "pretty amazed" at the decision.

"I'm not seeing it justified," she said, wondering aloud what the new council would be doing to earn the extra money.

"I'm waiting to see what it does to my taxes. With what they have added, it will be quite an impact on that part of the budget (payments to councillors)."

"There have been surpluses every year, maybe they plan to take it from that," she speculated.

Peel said she talked to Macklem about the issue and she felt that her questions hadn't been adequately answered.

"What bothers me more than anything is that, as reeve, he has publicly told the taxpayers that this is just the beginning," Peel said.

Peel chose not to run for council this term.

In camera meetings

said so and so. I think that's a real problem everywhere."

Bicroft reeve Bill Howe says that, although going in camera does affect the tone of a discussion, he doesn't feel it makes a difference in terms of his being responsible to his ratepayers.

"You're just as responsible," says Howe. "But in a closed meeting people will have a tendency to say things they wouldn't say in open council. And I don't mean in terms of the business, I mean in terms of dealing with one another. And it becomes a personality thing."

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey agrees closed sessions change the dynamics of a meeting.

"I respect the members of council," says Fearrey, "and there's camaraderie there, and sometimes you can get an answer with an offhand remark. You aren't going to be able to do that in a public forum, because you guys are going to scald us on it. So we're going to be more careful with the questions. So that makes it a more relaxed atmosphere to do business."

Fearrey also says that more pointed questions tend to be asked in the closed sessions, which, he says, means the terms of debate tend to be defined better.

The county council went in camera January 18 to discuss matters related to redirecting infrastructure funding for a proposed county building. The reason given was that, should council decide to build the new building, land would have to be purchased, and that this issue could not be separated from the other issues involved.

"Many people don't know where to turn after the loss of a loved one. Oftentimes, family and friends aren't sure what they can do or say to help. That's why we have formed a grief recovery group.

While a support group doesn't make problems disappear, it does give people a chance to talk with others who are experiencing similar emotions.

It's important that people find a way to express their grief and learn to deal with it. That's when the healing begins."

'95 Fur Harvesters' show enjoys best turnout ever

by Jerry Grozelle

Turnout at the Minden District Fur Harvesters (MDFH) annual Workshop and Fun Day was the highest in the 10-year-plus history of the event. An estimated 350 to 400 people dropped by the Minden Arena to check out the displays, the fur fashion show and see what the fur harvesters are all about.

"It was the best turnout yet," said MDFH president Brian Austen, who helped organize the event.

Besides the fur fashion show, which was sponsored by Bernard Cahill Furs of Peterborough, the event featured a taxidermy display by Fish-Fur-Game Taxidermy of Haliburton, an outdoors equipment booth by Canadian Trading Post of Burlington and fur harvesters' displays. The Fur Managers' Association and the Kawartha-Haliburton Trappers Council were represented at the event. Fur processing competitions were held at the event as well as a skinning demonstration.

Guest speaker Eric McFeetors of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters enlightened the audience about the proposed gun control legislation which has been introduced by federal Justice Minister Allan Rock.

McFeetors warned that the proposals, such as universal registration of all firearms, including rifles and shotguns which are used for hunting and target shooting, will have a devastating effect on the average gun owner in Canada.

He said that people will have to justify ownership of firearms on a regular basis if the legislation is passed. He cautioned that action is needed now, unless gun owners are prepared to give up more of their civil liberties and pay more for the privilege of owning a firearm.

McFeetors said that the cost of registration has not been determined and may be based on the number of firearms owned. He expresses the concern that registration fees may increase proportionally according to the number of guns a shooter or collector has. Those fees, he said, may be prohibitive.

He urged all gun owners to write, fax or phone their MP and urge him to vote against the proposed legislation as it stands. McFeetors said that the OFAH has no objections to parts of the bill that deal with the criminal use of firearms, such as increased penalties for the use of a firearm during the commission of a crime. It is the further restrictions to be imposed on law-abiding citizens that are objectionable.

Several prizes were handed out at the event for preparation of pelts. Following is a list of those winners:

project.

But not all of those interviewed were entirely comfortable with the idea of going in camera to discuss the issue. Lutterworth reeve Jim McMahon, instrumental in the initial decision to apply for the funding, when asked if he felt discussing a decision on so large a sum without the public viewing the process was fair to the ratepayers, said he felt it was not.

McMahon was also a member of the steering committee the council had appointed to look into alternatives to the proposal to build a new building. It was this steering committee that formulated the resolution council moved on following the in camera session. But McMahon says that he, for one, was unhappy with the speed with which the decision was taken.

"The steering committee had one meeting," said McMahon, "and decided at that meeting by all members excluding myself that a recommendation be made to redirect the funds. I didn't feel we had enough information gathered, we didn't do enough research. We had one architect look at the existing building and give us his opinion. I felt that we should have had more than the one opinion, and we should have been gathering more information."

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey was also a member of the steering committee. Fearrey had expressed concerns prior to the municipal election that perhaps the county should not be making an expenditure of this size at a time when the county reserves have been depleted. Fearrey says a fair number of issues were discussed in the closed session — including whether or not there were guaranteed government contracts such as rental of space by the OPP that would help pay for the building.

Fearrey also says that the purchase of the land was necessarily a large part of the decision, and inseparable from the rest of the discussion. But asked whether or not he knew what kind of price the county could have expected to pay for the land, he said he had no idea.

Asked for a ballpark estimate, Fearrey said, "Well I would assume that you wouldn't buy much for $100,000 out there. I would guess that. I don't know the numbers... But that isn't subsidizable under the infrastructure program. So that's $100,000 right out of our jeans."

Fearrey also said that the one committee meeting held on the issue was two hours long or more.

"It was two hours at least," said Fearrey. "But we had some background on it."

The proposed $2.4 million project had been the largest single project announced in Haliburton county, and amounted to a little under half of the $5.8 million approved in the county as a whole, from projects proposed by municipalities, by the school board, and by the county itself.

Sled dog derby postponed

The Minden Technical Challenge Sled Dog Derby has been postponed until February 4 and 5 due to weather conditions.

The Minden race is the largest Limited Class spring sled dog race in the world, and offers a total purse of over $22,500.

"We have an obligation to the mushers and their teams to provide not only the best possible trail, but one that is safe for drivers and dogs," race governor Val Loughheed explained. "When the trail does not meet our standards, we must put the welfare of the dogs and the drivers ahead of all other considerations. The decision to postpone the race is not taken lightly... We are aware that the postponement will affect many people, including the thousands of spectators who had planned to attend."

The derby will follow the identical Friday to Sunday schedule February 3 to 5.

Hand signals for smart drivers

Help stop impaired thinking on drinking. If you drive, don't drink. Here are some tips.

Tip 1. Don't take your car to the bar. Or anywhere else you will be drinking. Then you won't have to make an impaired choice.

Tip 2. Arrange for a designated driver, call a cab, or ask a friend for a lift.

Closed doors

Several weeks ago, on the opposite page, we published an article supplied by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs, outlining the new rules regarding the conduct of municipal business. Bill 163, passed by the Ontario Legislature in November of last year, requires municipal councils to open their deliberations to public scrutiny.

The introduction of the new legislation appears to have had little impact on local politicians. This past Wednesday, the members of Haliburton County Council retired behind closed doors to discuss an item described in the agenda as... "to deal with security of property issues surrounding the proposal to build a new administrative building." When the council emerged from its closed meeting, a resolution was endorsed calling for the expenditure of $750,000 on the renovation and expansion of the existing county building and $300,000 for repairs to the roof at Hyland Crest. The motion passed without serious debate.

The process by which this decision was reached, flies in the face of the new legislation. The expenditure of public funds, (whether they are from the infrastructure program or out of the municipal tax stream, the dollars are still public funds), should be a public process. While the decision to spend the money was in fact endorsed in a public forum, the thoughts and debate that went into reaching that decision apparently took place behind closed doors.

While some may claim that the debate involved the purchase of property, and therefore rightfully belonged behind closed doors, the decision in fact represented a shift in the county's priorities from constructing a new building to expanding the existing building; a change involving a great deal of money. It would have been easy to separate the potential purchase of property from the question of whether the councillors were in favour of spending money on a new building (wherever it might be located) versus building an addition onto the existing structure.

The property purchase aside, both options involve a large expenditure of taxpayers' money, and as far as we can determine, the debate over how to spend it all took place behind closed doors. We don't think this is what Municipal Affairs Minister Ed Phillips meant when, in speaking of Bill 163, he said, "...municipal councils will have to open their decision-making to the public."

Thank you

Editor:

The Haliburton County Association for Community Living board of directors, staff and people supported, would like to take this opportunity to thank The Times for your support in the first annual ski challenge. Your support was greatly appreciated and our day was a big success.

Editor:

Now that we've all said good-bye to 1994, we thought it would be timely to extend our thanks, on behalf of the families of Haliburton County, for all your efforts in helping us promote 1994 as International Year of the Family.

We are so thankful that you value families and supports to families such that you give us a half page spread in The Times each month and co-ordinate the sponsors: Minden IDA Drug Store and the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home. The generosity of these sponsors is also overwhelming and so very much appreciated.

We'd also like to say a special thank you to our committee members who helped us compile all the event information for the past year-- we couldn't have done it without you: Allison, Janet, Donna, Mike and Brian!

Even though the Year of the Family may be "officially" over, we trust that the health and well-being of families remains a priority in everyone's heart in 1995.

At least the beach will not be crowded

Well, here we are, ice-bound in the black hole of the annual Canadian weather experience — which is to say, right smack in the frosted bulls-eye of yet another winter — and do you know what we'll both be thinking about today?

The only thing that really, really matters to any Canuck who finds him or herself up to the axles in white stuff — escape.

We will be thinking meteoric thoughts of Acapulco, Vera Cruz and Tampico Bay. We will muse indecently of swaying palms, white beach sand hot enough to toast one's tootsies and tangy margaritas served with love in long-stemmed glasses as big as birdbaths.

We will entertain uncharitable thoughts about the bloated plutocrats among us who are rich enough to turn the Canadian midwinter fantasy into reality. The ones who can actually afford to hop aboard those southbound chartered 747s, leaving the rest of us stranded in the drifts, in our galoshes and earmuffs, growling muffled curses into our scarves and shaking our snowshovels skyward.

Canadians will generate a Great Lake's worth of envy today, but one southbound couple we will not be wishing to exchange places with is the McIntyres.

Don and Margie McIntyre I mean. They too, are heading south, and they're not doing it on the cheap. They've got two, count 'em, two, boats full of supplies — enough to keep them in grub and spare clothes for a couple of years. By the time it's over the McIntyres will spend almost half a million bucks on this little vacation, what with the satellite communication links, the solar and wind-turbine power generators and whatnot, but you have to spend money if you really want to get away from it all, right?

And the McIntyres figure they really will be getting away from it all. They don't expect to see another human for the next year.

That's because the southern resort spa they're heading for is on the shores of Commonwealth Bay, Antarctica. Population: nada.

They'll be living in a fibreglass hut especially reinforced to withstand winds of 200 miles an hour — which is what they can expect on the shores of Commonwealth Bay, a destination designated as "kingdom of blizzards" by those tourists luckless or witless enough to have stayed overnight before.

The most famous visitors would have to be the 18-man exploration team led by Australian geologist Douglas Mawson, back before the first World War. In the spring of 1912, starving members of the Mawson expedition were reduced to eating their own sled dogs. Two men perished, one went bonkers and Mawson himself staggered back to base camp just in time to see his rescue ship steaming out to sea.

Black'n White

by Arthur Black

None of which deters the McIntyres, who have cheerily dubbed their adventure "Together Alone: Expedition Ice-Bound". The prospect of sitting out a 365-day long winter storm doesn't phase them. In fact, they're toting an extra year's worth of vittles just in case the pack ice prevents their scheduled rendezvous with a supply ship next December.

Well, okay, but what do you do — you know — DO when you find yourself virtually snowed in for an entire calendar year? In Antarctica of all tropical vacation spots.

It's not like you can count on wandering Mariachi bands or occasional busloads of party-hearty dentists from the Midwest.

Hey, Antarctica's so remote it doesn't even have a team in the Canadian Football League.

Don and Margie figure they'll handle the situation okay. He plans to work on a three foot model of Captain Cook's famous ship Endeavour. As for Margie, she says she intends to stitch and stuff 50 teddy bears to sell at an Australian charity auction later.

And Don McIntyre's got experience — he's considered one of Australia's toughest sailors.

Margie? Well...she says she's never actually skied or snowshoed. As a matter of fact she's scarcely ever seen snow.

Do I think they'll make it? Why not? Hell, they sound almost wacky enough to be Canadians.

Business 'spiel

Merchants from throughout the community, many stepping out onto the ice for the first time, took part in the annual Business Bonspiel January 14 at the Minden Curling club. The event attracted 22 teams who played two games and then enjoyed a potluck supper at the end of the day. The team sponsored by John Francis Fuels won the event. Organizer Fred Simmons, right, presented team members with The Times trophy, including, from the left, skip Ron Chillman, lead Darrell Francis, vice Don Blakey and Mary Jane Irwin second.

Poster winners

The weather may be a little iffy, but the posters are looking great.

The Sled Dog Derby posters prepared by the students at Archie Stouffer Elementary School went on display in store windows throughout the community this past week. The colourful additions to the annual race drew a great deal of attention and praise from the merchants and pedestrians.

The following posters were selected to be the "most interesting" in each of the grade levels (presented in the order of placing):

Kindergarten: Mhari Treharne, Chrissy Cowen and Brad Brown; Grade One: Tyson Farrell, Aaron Keaney and Danielle Barter; Grade two: Sean Keaney, Kathryn Bérubé and Christine Gwillim; Grade three: Taylor Hughes, Teddy Ecclestone and Sherri-Lynn Lawrence; Grade four: Brady Clark, Kelly Welch and Meghan Kernohan; Grade five: Becky Wallace, Tanya Peacock and Brandy Harrison; Grade six: Margaret Bérubé, Jeremy Johnson and Christine Barnes; Grade seven: Rob Milburn, Janine Harrison and Trisha Shelly; Grade eight: Lisa Cowen, Erin Kernohan and Shelly Hirstwood.

The poster selected as best overall was drawn by grade five student Becky Wallace. (Students are asked to leave their work on display until after the derby at which time they can claim them from the businesses where they are on display.)

SLED DOG DERBY

The 1995 Minden Techni-Cal Sled Dog Derby has been postponed to February 4 & 5 because of poor snow conditions

Redmen still on track, even without key players

by Jerry Grozelle

The true test of any sports team is its ability to weather the loss of key players. In that respect, the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Redmen hockey team has shown that it has the depth and heart to overcome adversity.

The Redmen have continued their winning ways in spite of the loss of two key players.

Mark Stamp, the Kawartha High School Hockey League's top scorer, left the high school team on January 10 to join the Lindsay Muskies junior A team.

The team's captain Jonathan Bishop will be out of the lineup until the second round of playoffs because he broke a bone in his left leg. Bishop was also among the league's top scorers.

For most teams, the loss of two key players would be disastrous. But the Redmen have maintained a high calibre of hockey. They remain in first place in the overall standings.

Peterborough's St. Peter's Saints came to Haliburton to test the Redmen on January 18.

The Saints have been among the top four teams in the league all season and Redmen coach Ron Yake said it was an important game for his team.

"St. Peter's is a strong team," Yake said. "They're right up there in the standings. With the injuries and the situation with Mark Stamp, it was a big game for us and the guys responded. They put out an excellent effort."

That effort earned the Redmen a 5-3 win over their rivals from Peterborough. But the game wasn't without its anxious moments.

Haliburton took a 2-0 first-period lead. Mark Morissette opened the scoring at the 3:37 mark, with Kevin Morissette and Josh Burk assisting. Four and a half minutes later, Dennis Woods scored on a setup from Bill Dovell to give the Redmen a 2-0 advantage that lasted to the end of the period.

THE PRESSURE'S ON: Saints goaltender Kiirk Gaskell has his work cut out for him here as he fends off Redmen attackers Kevin Morissette (10) and Josh Burk (18). Morissette scores one goal and assisted three more as the Redmen defeated the Saints 5-3 at the Haliburton arena.

St. Peter's cut the Haliburton lead in half 20 seconds into the middle frame and tied the game with 17 seconds left in the period.

The game remained deadlocked until the 5:57 mark of the third, when the Saints scored to take the lead for the first time in the game.

The Peterborough team had virtually no time to savour the lead. The Redmen came right back after the faceoff, notching the equalizer in just seven seconds. Jackie Morrison was the sniper, with Kevin Morissette and John Henderson assisting. Kevin Morissette put the Redmen in front by a 4-3 count with 4:38 left and Mark Morissette added an insurance marker less than two minutes later. Burk assisted on Kevin's goal, while Kevin and Burk set up Mark's goal.

Coach Yake said that his team played most of the second period short-handed,

Minden and Haliburton bantam A teams play penalty-free game

Monarchs rebound from 2-0 deficit to edge Huskies 3-2 in Haliburton

Two close games closed out the regular season for the Minden bantam A Monarchs.

On January 14, the Monarchs played host to Omamee and came out on the short end of a 3-2 score.

Omamee scored the only goal of the first period, five minutes after the opening faceoff.

Minden got back on even terms with a goal by Ryan Anderson with 9:12 left in the second frame. Chris Nielsen and Steve Ecclestone assisted.

Before the middle period was over, Omamee went ahead 2-1 and that's how the score stood after two frames.

The Monarchs tied the game again at the 4:39 mark of the third. Rob Camelon was the sharpshooter. He was set up by Nielsen and Ecclestone.

Omamee took just 22 seconds to jump in front again and this time, the visitors hung on to preserve the 3-2 win.

The last game of the regular season for the Monarchs was in Haliburton and both teams pulled out the stops. The action was end-to-end. Minden goalie Ashley Walker was called upon to make some outstanding saves throughout the game.

For two periods, it looked like Haliburton would prevail. Billy Dovell notched two goals for the home team by the end of the second frame for a 2-0 Haliburton lead.

The Minden come-back started early in the third, when Nielsen scored an unassisted goal from the slot. At the 4:18 mark, Ecclestone scored on the wrap-around to tie the game. Nielsen and Darren Mills assisted.

Mills scored the game-winner with 2:05 left when he pounded home a rebound. Nielsen got his third point of the game with an assist on that one.

Neither team was assessed a penalty during the game. It was Minden's fourth penalty-free game since December 15.

The Monarchs started the new year off right, defeating Bobcaygeon 8-1 and doubling Woodville 6-3, before giving up the 3-2 loss in Omamee.

The Monarchs kept the puck in the opposition end for most of the game against Bobcaygeon. Mills scored two goals for the Monarchs. One was assisted by Ecclestone and Ben Ripley and the other was a solo effort. Sheamus Donnery netted one, from Ripley and Camelon. Nielsen also scored twice. Ecclestone helped set them both up, while Don Todd and Mills picked up one assist apiece. Ryan Anderson was the big gun of the game for the Monarchs, with a hat trick. One was unassisted, with Ecclestone and Nielsen setting up the others.

Mills opened the scoring for Minden against Woodville, scoring on a setup from defenceman Nathan Stevenson.

Matt Hamilton got the second Minden marker, converting a pass from Anderson in the second period.

Woodville got back on even terms in the third, but only for a short time. Mills got another goal to put Minden in front again, from Stevenson and Donnery. Ecclestone and George Godfrey scored one each in a span of four minutes to put Minden in front 6-2. Nielsen assisted on both of those goals and Mills helped set up one.

Minden gave up a 2-0 lead in Omamee, allowing the host team to rebound with three unanswered goals in the third to grab the 3-2 win.

Godfrey and Mills were the Minden snipers, with assists going to Anderson, Donnery and Ripley.

League playoffs got under way late last week. Teams involved in the first round of playoff action include Bobcaygeon, Cannington, Manvers, Ops, Sunderland, Woodville and Minden.

The Minden team has beaten each of these teams at least once during league play or during tournaments.

Bantam B Monarchs end regular season play with 5-0 win

by Jerry Grozelle

Rounding out the regular season on a positive note, the Minden Legion bantam B Monarchs hockey team skated to a 5-0 shutout over Mariposa on January 16. The game at the Oakwood Community Centre turned ugly near the end, with two players from each team being ejected as a result of a fight.

Blair Johnson earned the shutout between the Minden piles.

After a scoreless first period, Clay Davis scored what proved to be the game winner, an unassisted goal, two and a half minutes into the middle frame. Kirk Smith and Steve Hutchinson added one each to the Legion tally over the next three and a half minutes, and the Monarchs went into the third with a 3-0 advantage. Matt Cheeseman assisted on both of those goals and Smith helped set up Hutchinson's marker.

Curtis Barry scored the fourth Minden goal three minutes into the third, from Jason Horsley. The final goal of the game was notched by Jason Kasepchuk with 11 seconds left in the game. Cheeseman picked up his third assist of the game on that one.

The playoff schedule hasn't been finalized yet, but the Monarchs are slated to meet Cannington in the first round.

Redmen survive loss of key players giving St. Pete's the opportunity to catch up.

Yake credits Morrison's tying goal as the turning point for the Redmen. He added that the players of the game were the Morissette brothers.

"Mark was the leader of the team because Jonathan Bishop is out now," Yake said. "He really took the bull by the horns and helped lead the team."

Last Wednesday's game was the last home game of the regular season for the Redmen. They have three games left, one each in Lindsay, Fenelon Falls and Lakefield, before the playoffs.

"Tim Stouffer had an excellent game on defence and so did Andrew McKelvey," Yake said, adding, "and goaltender Justin Rowden had a good game. He played solid in net."

"Our second line, consisted of Josh Burk, Bill

Dovell and Dennis Woods in that game and they were equal to the task of the St. Peter's team," Yake said.

Morale of the team has bounced back. There was a brief period of apprehension when Stamp left, but the team quickly recovered.

"The Wednesday right after the break, the dressing room was dead quiet," Yake said. "I mentioned to them that I hoped this was the calm before the storm. This past Wednesday, however, was livened right up. You wouldn't notice any difference. It was good to see the pre-game excitement back in the dressing room."

The Redmen are currently in first place overall with 20 points. The Kenner Rams of Peterborough are second with 17 points, but they have a game in hand.

Peer tutors prepare for the new semester

by Misty Bennett, HHSS student reporter

Peer tutoring is a relatively new concept for both staff and students at HHSS. Peer tutoring is a course that allows grade twelve and OAC, advanced and general level students to go into a grade 9 class to assist the teacher. This course is offered as a grade twelve advanced level Senior Social Science.

Peer tutoring was introduced last year by the transition committee led by our principal Mr. Brohman, to complement the newly de-streamed grade 9 classes. The committee visited a school where peer tutoring programs were in place and returned with recommendations for the board of education.

Heading up the project is teacher and guidance counsellor, Mrs. Willis. "When we started the de-streamed program, teachers chose to teach grade 9, no one was forced into it." The teachers treated de-streaming as a team project and they knew they could turn to one another for help.

Peer tutors are chosen in the following manner: First, students interested, must complete an application along with a collage representing an aspect of their lives. Then all prospective tutors are interviewed by experienced peer tutors. If any concerns arise, Mrs. Willis will personally interview the student. Attendance plays a large role in whether a student is accepted. The grade 9 teacher counts on the peer tutor to be there.

There are training sessions for students accepted into the course. The first session starts at the end of the semester, following exams. There are get-together sessions at lunch or after school every other week during the semester when the tutor is in the classroom.

Peer tutors are currently in non-elective subject classrooms only. Teachers of elective subjects, such as art and music, would like to have peer tutors, but for the time being, peer tutors will be assisting only in those classes where mandatory subject are taught.

In designing the curriculum for peer tutoring, Mrs. Willis has had a lot of help. Creatively, assistance came from Mrs. Varty and help with organization and interviewing came from Mrs. Duchene.

Peer tutoring is an excellent program and its practical experience is wonderful. I urge any student who is interested in helping fellow students to get involved in this program.

Highlands snowmobiling could be featured on Michigan sports network

Members of the Chamber of Commerce are attempting to arrange for a program to be shown on an American television sports network advertising snowmobiling in Haliburton County.

The PASS sports system is a Michigan based organization, similar to TSN. The chamber says it reaches more than 900,000 homes on cable and is also available via satellite.

PASS approached the chamber about doing a segment on the Haliburton area on a regularly scheduled program promoting winter holiday destinations.

To make it happen, says Brown, they need some sponsors. The chamber has been publicizing the initiative for a few weeks now, and has found some interested parties.

"We have surveyed the Chamber membership to find out who may be interested," says Brown, "and we've had agreement from a number of resorts. Six have indicated they're at least interested in seeing the proposal from PASS sports. We'll be meeting in the next week or so to determine whether or not they're prepared to go ahead, because, of course, there will be costs associated with any marketing program and if we proceed I would expect to see the film crew from PASS here within two to two and a half weeks."

Brown also says this kind of promotion is nothing new for the area or for the chamber.

"This type of thing has become the norm in the last year," says Brown, "we were involved in getting the Minden Techni-Cal Challenge sled dog derby on TSN; we had the Bass Ontario Pro Classic filmed here in Haliburton, and that's going to be an hour television program. Bass Ontario also has filmed two other programs in the past year to be shown in the upcoming fishing season. There is another program that we're looking at — possibly two more in the next six months or so."

"What better way to get it out to the masses than to do it on television?" he concluded. "As long as it's affordable."

Minden Men's Hockey Association action

Hamilton scores five

by Jerry Grozelle

There were no blowouts in Minden Men's Hockey Association play on January 16. There was one upset though.

KDD 5, Home Hardware 4

The players on the Kountry Double D team left the ice grinning after the first of three league games. Holding sole possession of last place in the league standings, the KDD squad earned a hard fought 5-4 win over Home Hardware, the defending champions from last season.

KDD opened a 2-0 lead in the first period, only to

Tyke A Monarchs win one, lose one

Two games on the weekend of January 14 and 15 resulted in a win and a loss for the Minden tyke A Monarchs.

The Monarchs played host to the Haliburton Huskies on January 14. Minden got off to a good start in that game, scoring the opening goal at the 2:09 mark of the first period. Nicky Wallace was the sharpshooter for Minden, with Sean Keaney assisting.

The Huskies rebounded, scoring twice before the first period ended, added two in the middle frame and rounded out the scoring with one in the third to take home a 5-1 win.

Jeff Burk led the Haliburton scoring with a hat trick and one assist. Adam Sisson and Connor McMillan were the other Haliburton snipers.

The next day, the Monarchs went to Manvers and came home with a 4-1 win in a game filled with end-to-end action.

After a scoreless first period, the Monarchs got on the board with an unassisted goal by Sean Keaney.

Manvers got that one back in less than a minute. But, a minute after that, Minden was in front again with a goal by Wallace, unassisted. The second period ended with Minden in front by a 2-1 count.

Aaron Keaney made it 3-1 for the Monarchs with 3:35 left in the third, with an assist going to Sherri Walker.

Manvers pulled out all the stops, including the goaltender, for the last two minutes of the game in a desperate attempt to catch up. The move backfired when Mike Fisher got control of the puck and scored his first goal of the season with 25 seconds left in the game. Fisher celebrated his accomplishment by skating the length of the ice with his hands raised high.

have the Home Hardware crew come back and tie the game by the end of the half.

Home took the lead twice in the second half, but KDD scored the last two goals of the game to claw out its first win of the season.

Ben Manuge and Greg Alexander led the KDD squad to victory. Manuge scored two goals and helped set up one more, while Alexander netted two goals. Charlie Teljeur added a goal and one assist to the KDD score. Single assists went to Gary Nelson, Steve Stewart, John Teljeur and Bill Hogg.

Wyatt Nesbitt, Barry Shaw, Kim Colliss and Kent Taylor were the Home snipers with one apiece. Dave Hartwick, Nesbitt, Taylor, Lawrence Loughheed and John Ballantyne had one assist each.

Westside 8, Hartwick 5

The highest scoring game of the night was the middle one, with Westside Jug City downing Hartwick Construction 8-5.

Westside built up a 3-0 lead but by the end of the first half, Hartwick had narrowed the gap to 3-2.

The second half was a seesaw battle with Hartwick keeping within striking distance for most of the period.

Once again, Scott Hamilton paced the attack for Westside, scoring five goals and assisting on a sixth. Craig Crowe netted two goals and set up one more for the winners. Dave Pettes was the other sharpshooter, with a single marker. Monty Miscio, Dave Ross and Harold Cowan picked up one assist each.

Gord Wood notched two of the Hartwick replies and assisted on two more. Glen Hall, Ritchie Mills and Ivan Ingram were the other Hartwick marksmen with one each. Andrew Burke and Dean Sisson drew one assist apiece.

Stamp 5, Times 2

The night's late game saw the Sid Stamp Fuels crew take a 2-0 lead in the opening frame. The Times got one back early in the second, but Stamp netted three in a row to jump in front 5-1. The Times got the last goal of the game to end it at 5-2.

Gary Harrison and Scott Nesbitt scored two each for the winners, with Harrison adding an assist to his credit. Eldon Bull netted a single goal to the Stamp total and one assist each went to Tom Haley, Greg Hurley and Boomer Stamp.

Jeff Howe scored both of the Times replies. Mark Thompson picked up an assist on one of them.

COMMUNITY INFORMATION MEETINGS

Ross Memorial Hospital is preparing for the future and we need your input.

The Hospital is finalizing a long range plan that identifies how its programs may change to best serve the community in the future. The plan also suggests a number of physical renovations that would be necessary in providing these services. We'd like to offer the community a chance to view the recommendations and talk to us about the impact on current programs and services.

The sessions will be informal, drop-in meetings with a chance to discuss the plans with Hospital staff and Board members.

Wed., February 1st 3:00 - 5:00 p.m. and 6:00 - 8:00 p.m.
Ross Memorial Hospital Boardroom
(Free parking will be available)

Wed., February 8th 3:00 - 5:00 p.m. and 6:00 - 8:00 p.m.
Fenelon Falls:
Community Hall, 21 Market St.

Please plan to attend and offer your feedback on these plans.

Half way into the 'Turnaround Decade'

The year 2000 will be preceded by a media frenzy of retrospectives and predictions of the future. Experts and pundits will announce the end of an era or the beginning of a new age.

All people celebrate anniversaries of important events as a time to reflect on the past and anticipate the future. The year 2000 has a mathematical elegance that makes it a natural transition point and no doubt much of the reportage will focus on the incredible technological, medical and economic changes in this century.

But let's take the less grandiose year of 1995, the halfway mark in the Worldwatch Institute-designated Turnaround Decade. This year is also the 50th anniversary of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, the end of the Second World War and the establishment of the United Nations. There is no better time to reflect more deeply on where we have come from and where we now appear to be heading. If we don't, we will continue to downplay the crisis in global ecological degradation.

Often journalists are reluctant to cover environmental issues because they accuse environmentalists of being too "emotional". It's a remarkable criticism when so much of what passes as balanced reporting is deliberately aimed at the emotions. But the implication that being emotional somehow diminishes credibility has never made sense to me. If our home was trashed or our child crippled by hooligans, there would be something seriously wrong if we WEREN'T emotional!

Today, many believe because of greed, ignorance or shortsightedness, the planet is being vandalized by the destruction of wilderness, extinction of species, toxic pollution, over consumption and population increase. We are biological beings whose real home is the Earth which is also the source of all life. Surely the credibility of those who are NOT concerned or emotional about the environmental crisis must be suspect.

The global ecological emergency is not some sensational or self-serving fabrication or exaggeration. The anecdotal evidence, especially in the memories of our elders, is overwhelming. You can SEE it yourself in the brown dome of smog visible over many cities. Skyrocketing rates of asthma, breast cancer, sex organ dysfunctions and skin problems are a canary's warning, as is the dramatic disappearance of many of our biological relatives - frogs, birds, trees, fish and plants. Once pristine rivers, lakes and seashores are dangerously contaminated with chemicals, trash and micro-organisms. The fate of the Newfoundland fishery is a lesson on the consequences of failing to conserve renewable resources.

Anyone who has fished or scuba dived for 15 or 20 years can give startling testimony about the diminution in sea life over that time. I once encountered a group of loggers who vented their anger at me openly and harshly. I finally responded that environmentalists don't oppose logging but hope loggers' children will be able to cut trees every bit as rich as the ones they were currently harvesting. One of the men immediately snorted, "There's no way my kids will be loggers. There won't be any trees left!" Even angry loggers know that overcutting is diminishing their children's future.

An extraterrestrial scientist who arrived on Earth and decided to study human beings the way I once studied fruit flies - by watching what they do - would soon conclude that as a species, we are either suicidal or insane. With global telecommunications, computers, engineers and scientists, we KNOW the planet is being degraded catastrophically, yet we seem unable or unwilling to change our destructive behaviour.

It's as if we are all in a car heading straight at a concrete wall at 150 kmh, yet all we do is fight over who sits in the driver's seat. The few who point to the wall and warn that we should put on the brakes and turn onto a different road, are locked in the trunk and ignored.

Psychiatrists refer to our current condition as "cognitive dissonance" - we sense a need to change, but to do so clashes with our personal beliefs and values. It's less distressing to ignore the warnings ("it's too depressing") or discount the messenger ("she's too pessimistic", "they propose no alternatives", "he's too emotional").

Well, I don't think we can afford to indulge ourselves any longer by denying or refusing to face facts. The future of our children is now in serious jeopardy and each day that we carry on with business-as-usual, reduces the range of options that will remain open to them. As time passes, the options for change diminish while the costs skyrocket. Let's hope 1995 will signal a real change in direction. In the coming weeks, I will present the facts as they are presented by scientists.

Acid rain report

The following report on acid precipitation was recorded at the Ministry of Environment and Energy site near Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada.

This report covers the period January 8 to 14:

Jan. 8: 5 cm of snow with a pH of 4.3, traced from northern Michigan and Lake Huron.

Jan. 11: 5 mm of mixed snow and rain with a pH of 3.8, traced from northern Ohio and Lake Erie.

Jan. 12: 6 mm of rain with a pH of 4.1 traced from southern Indiana, Ohio and southwestern Ontario.

Jan. 13: 7 mm of rain with a pH of 4.3 traced from central Michigan and Lake Erie.

Jan. 14: 25 mm of rain with a pH of 4.6, traced from eastern Georgia, central North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, western Pennsylvania and western New York.

Environmental damage to lakes and streams is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH readings of less than 4.7. pH readings less than 4.0 are considered serious.

Party helps mark New Year celebration

(Intended for last week's paper.)

As we enter into a new year, I would like to wish all our readers a happy, healthy and prosperous new year.

I am taking on the interim task of writing the column. Winnifred Barnum is taking a well-deserved rest from writing. She may take on the job again at a later date. We thank Winnie for her dedication to the column.

I have been a volunteer at Hyland Crest for about six months now. I retired to my summer home in Ingoldsby last October. I was raised in Windsor but spent the last 28 years in Michigan. I did nursing for 38 years so feel right at home at Hyland Crest. Volunteering is very rewarding. If you have some spare time you would like to share, please call Doris Robertson at 286-2140.

New Year's celebration was held Friday, December 30 Happy Hour. It was a gala, noisy celebration. Residents, family and friends were entertained by the faithful Grandfathers Four. Everyone wore colourful hats and had the time of their lives. Snacks were served along with their beverages. Volunteers were Dottie and Bob Muirhead, Bonnie Fullan, Don and Ellen Holden and Pearl Cowen. It's great to see such enthusiasm among the residents.

Monday afternoon Louise Leonard came to entertain with music. Tuesday a.m. was chapel service with Rev. Brian Parker. In the afternoon we did crafts. Presently we are making valentine decoration. Doris, Dottie,

Senior League

by Donna Wallace

Phyllis and I helped the residents.

In the evening Corinne Arsenault helped the folks with a few hands of cards. Thanks Corinne.

Wednesday morning some residents were in the auditorium making pizza. They got to sit down at a nicely set table and sample their wares. Sounds like they enjoyed their own cooking.

After lunch Doris conducted fitness. After 4 p.m. there was a singsong in the special care unit. Doris played the keyboard. Janice Rachar led the singalong of old country songs.

In the evening, Kathleen and Earl entertained on the piano, mandolin and fiddle. Thank you folks.

Thursday morning was fitness again. It means so much to keep the residents mobile with exercise.

The Haliburton Legion ladies served lunch in the afternoon. The tea party was delightful and we thank those dedicated ladies.

Friday a.m. another sing-a-long was held in the special care unit with Doris on the keyboard. In the afternoon, Connie and Mike Biagi and Frank Faulkner entertained on fiddle, sax and mouth organ. The residents appreciate their music so much. Family, friends and residents enjoyed the music, dance and treats at happy hour. Saturday afternoon Kathleen Owen entertained on the keyboard.

Birthday congratulations go out to Henry Howe, Lilian Harrison and Alice Todd. May you all have many more and enjoy good health.

We have a new resident, Bertha Hughes. We welcome Bertha to Hyland Crest along with her musical talents. We hope she enjoys her new home and has many happy healthy years here. As I walked through the lounge this morning, Bertha was playing the accordion and the residents were singing.

That's about it for this week folks. It's always an active place here at Hyland Crest. Until next time, try to keep warm.

January 9-15

Monday morning fitness was held in the auditorium under the able direction of Doris. In the afternoon there was residents' council. Llyn Shirley, dietary supervisor, was the guest speaker. Doris Robertson gave an update on future activities.

Tuesday morning chapel service was conducted by Rev. Fast. A Remembrance Service was held for Ruby Lewis who passed away January 4. Our condolences to Ruby's family. Tuesday afternoon we had a great turnout for crafts. We are still working on Valentines decorations. Dottie, Phyllis and I helped the residents and served refreshments. In the evening, Pearl Cowen was on hand for a few hands of cards for those interested in playing.

Wednesday morning was fitness again with Janice Rachar assisting Doris. Wednesday afternoon Pearl volunteered to call bingo. She was assisted by her daughter Teresa Clement. In the evening, the Grandfathers Four did their stuff with music and song. Thanks once again fellows.

Thursday afternoon Tea Party was catered by the Anglican Church Women. A lovely lunch was served. We thank you ladies.

Friday happy hour was a huge success. Residents, family and friends enjoyed the music by Al Blanchard and the Northern Jam. Refreshments were served. Several danced to the great music. We thank you once again.

Saturday afternoon Kathleen Owen entertained on the keyboard.

Sunday Estella Burch read to the residents. She is so faithful with her reading. In the evening Reverend John Burgess conducted the evening chapel service. Thank you sir.

Hyland Crest welcomed a new resident. Winnifred Rosebush joined the residents on January 11. We hope her stay here will be an enjoyable one.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the family of the late Gertrude McKay. Gertie passed away on January 9.

It certainly has been mild weather. I would much rather see a blanket of crisp white snow than that awful rain.

That's all for this week. Keep well.

Minden W.I. January meeting

Members of the Minden Women's Institute held their January 18 meeting in the afternoon at the Common Room with Jean Cox welcoming us and giving a reading. The special speaker for the meeting was Brian Adamson who explained some new facts on Powers of Attorney and Personal Health Care. There are many new regulations and Brian brought some kits to be examined. Two different forms are to be used and it seems a very involved and detailed project which should be done through the family lawyer. A small gift was presented to him by Annie Kernohan and everyone joined in the applause.

The meeting continued with the Roll Call being the special card fund collection and fourteen members were present.

A letter was read about the pre-Centennial special day at Milton with registry and other details given. Irene Moore, card convenor, sent only eight cards since December but would like to hear of people needing cards for various occasions.

The Pennies for Friendship and Birthday pennies were collected. The programme for February 15 was reviewed and there may be a speaker at that time.

After adjournment, a small gift was raffled and the winner was Mabel Deacon, a social half hour followed with tea, coffee a snack and a chat with others. Jeanne Sears, P.R.O.
